Employee benefit attorney and author Cynthia Marcotte Stamer will speak about “CPA Privacy and Identity Theft” to BDO Alliance Partners and guests attending the 2011 BDO Seidman Alliance Conference on May 2, 2011 in Las Vegas. During the program, Ms. Stamer will discuss a FACTA, HIPAA, federal and state data breach, professional ethics, employment and other privacy and a multitude of other topics privacy, identity theft and data security exposures and challenges impacting audit and tax partners, directors and managers and their clients.

Attendance at the Conference sponsored by BDO is limited to invited affiliates and guests of DBO.

For assistance in evaluating, managing or redressing privacy, data security, identity theft or other internal controls, human resources, or employee benefit concerns, or arranging for training on these or other related matters, contact Ms. Stamer at (469) 767-8872 or here.

About Ms Stamer

The Chair of the American Bar Association (ABA) RPTE Employee Benefits & Other Compensation Committee, a Council Representative on the ABA Joint Committee on Employee Benefits, Government Affairs Committee Legislative Chair for the Dallas Human Resources Management Association, and past Chair of the ABA Health Law Section Managed Care & Insurance Interest Group, Ms. Stamer works, publishes and speaks extensively on HIPAA and other privacy and data security, health plan, health care and other human resources and workforce, employee benefits, compensation, internal controls and related matters.

For more than 23 years, Ms. Stamer has counseled, represented and trained employers and other employee benefit plan sponsors, plan administrators and fiduciaries, insurers and financial services providers, third party administrators, human resources and employee benefit information technology vendors, accountants and other advisors, and others about privacy and data security, fiduciary responsibility, plan design and administration and other internal controls, compliance, risk management and operations matters.

In connection with this work, Ms. Stamer regularly counsels and helps clients to defend a broad range of clients about common law, HIPAA, FACTA, and other common law, human resources, employee benefits, insurance, financial services, trade secret, and other data security and identity theft concerns. She regularly works with employers, accounting and consulting firms, insurance and financial service providers, data management and technology providers and others to design, document and administer trade secret, data protection and other confidential information and data security policies and practices. She also has conducted numerous investigations of trade secret and other confidential information breaches, and other data or information breach or compromise events under HIPAA, FACTA, and other domestic and international data breach and other information security and identity theft laws. She also has represented many clients in reporting, defending and resolving risks and liabilities arising from information security breaches under these and other laws. In connection with these engagements, she has dealt extensively with FTC, OCR, the FBI, the US Secret Service, state insurance and banking regulators, attorneys general and other regulators as well as with complaints brought by employees, business partners, and other private plaintiffs.

Throughout her career, she has represented and served as special counsel to health and other employee benefit plans, plan sponsors, plan service providers, officers, directors and other management officials, bankruptcy trustees, debtors and creditors, and others in connection with health and other employee benefit plan fraud and other fiduciary responsibility and related investigations, prosecutions and other actions involving the Labor Department, IRS, HHS, Justice Department, state insurance and attorneys general, bankruptcy actions, and participant, beneficiary and vendor disputes. She also is recognized for her publications, industry leadership, workshops and presentations on these and other internal controls, risk management and compliance, employee benefits, insurance and human resources concerns and regularly speaks and conducts training on these matters. Her insights on these and other matters appear in the Bureau of National Affairs, Spencer Publications, the Wall Street Journal, the Dallas Business Journal, the Houston Business Journal, and many other national and local publications.
