Stamer To Co-Moderate ABA JCEB Government Invitational “What Would the Retirement Benefits Delivery System Look Like if Employers Stopped Sponsoring Plans?” Think Tank Discussion

Cynthia Marcotte Stamer will speak and co-moderate a policy think-tank session exploring “What Would the Retirement Benefits Delivery System Look Like if Employers Stopped Sponsoring Plans?” for the American Bar Association Joint Committee on Employee Benefits Government Invitational on March 31, 2011 in Baltimore, Md..

The Program open only to invited guests of the JCEB and other sponsoring organizations will explore the role of employers in the sponsorship and delivery of pension and other retirement savings and benefit programs in the U.S., regulatory and other disincentives to the continuation or expansion of these programs, and historical and comparative indicators of potential consequences of declining employer participation in retirement program sponsorship as well as examine practices of other countries as potential alternative retirement models for providing retirement savings or benefits in the U.S.

Ms. Stamer has extensive experience advising businesses and government about retirement and other employee benefit plan design, administration, and policy. Board Certified in Labor & Employment Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization, management attorney and consultant Ms. Stamer is nationally and internationally recognized for more than 23 years of work helping employers; employee benefit plans and their sponsors, administrators, insurers, health care providers, fiduciaries; employee leasing, recruiting, staffing and other professional employment organizations; and others design, administer and defend innovative health care, workforce, compensation, employee benefit and management policies and practices. Her experience includes extensive public policy experience, including serving as a primary advisor to the Government of Bolivia on the design and drafting of legislation and regulations privatizing its Social Security pension system as well as extensive involvement in federal and state retirement, health care, insurance, education and workforce policy reform in the United States and elsewhere.

In addition to her legal practice, Ms. Stamer also serves in numerous professional and civil organizations including as Executive Director of Project COPE, the Coalition on Patient Empowerment and the Coalition for Responsible Healthcare Policy; Vice President of the North Texas Healthcare Compliance Professionals Association; Chair of the American Bar Association RPTTE Employee Benefits & Other Compensation Committee; a Council Representative on the ABA Joint Committee on Employee Benefits, the Government Affairs Committee Legislative Chair for the Dallas Human Resources Management Association; an ABA Health Law Section Healthcare Coordinating Council member and as the Gulf Coast TEGE Council TE Committee Coordinator. She previously served as Board member and Treasurer of the Southwest Benefits Association; a founding Board Member and President of the Alliance for Healthcare Excellence, as a Board Member and Board Compliance Committee Chair for the National Kidney Foundation of North Texas; the Board President of the early retirement intervention agency, The Richardson Development Center for Children; Chair of the Dallas Bar Association Employee Benefits & Executive Compensation Committee; as well as in many other professional and civic leadership and volunteer roles.

Author of the hundreds of publications, Ms. Stamer also is recognized for her publications, industry leadership, organization of strategic collaborations, workshops and presentations, and other leadership on these and Ms. Stamer also publishes, speaks and organizes or participates in a wide range of other strategic collaborations on these and related topics. Her insights on these and other related matters have appeared in publications of the Bureau of National Affairs, Spencer Publications, the Wall Street Journal, Caring for the Elderly, Modern Healthcare, Managed Care Executive, the Dallas Business Journal, the Houston Business Journal, and many other national and local publications.
